

Economics (Kara)

Hello All,

Welcome to Economics course! I am looking forward to meeting you. Before the semester starts, I just want to give you some important information about the course book.

As you will see from the course syllabus, my choice of textbook is any edition of “Principles of Economics” by Mankiw and McConnell. This is an excellent book, covers both Microeconomics and Macroeconomics, with lots of examples, case studies, study problems, and etc. However, it is an expensive book if you wish to buy a new one (at least not affordable for all of you). I was an undergrad student once and totally understand your feelings when you see a textbook that expensive. Therefore, I want you to know that you have a very good option, which has an ultimately low price. I will mention about this option in our first class.

Best,

Dr. Ömer Kara
